

Programme No.: 2.06 Programme Title : Development of textbooks in language education for B.Ed. programme (Hindi & English).

School education and teacher education share a symbiotic relationship. To have qualitative improvement in education, both teacher education and school education need to mutually reinforce each other. NCF-2005 and the Right to Education Act-2009 suggest a rethinking in the area of teacher education as well. A need to review and redesign the B.Ed. Syllabus was felt as NCF-2005 expects the teacher to look at school education in a holistic manner. It advocates learner centred learning rather than teacher centred teaching. This applies to language education as well. The student teachers must understand various aspects of language education. They should be well versed not only with the subject content but also with the pedagogy of learning. Keeping this in view a two year syllabus has been developed at NCERT. On the basis of the new syllabus textbooks in language education are being developed.
